Before we begin today's lesson:

1. Let's think back to our previous lesson!

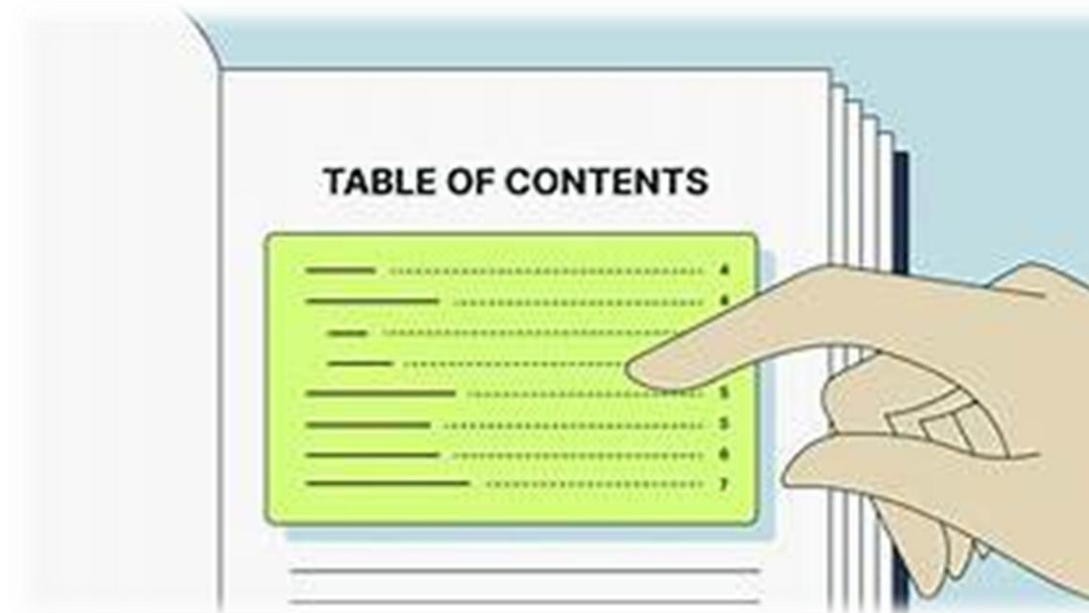

1. What is sentence?
2. What are the main parts of a paragraph?
3. What is the writing process?
4. Can you name the writing stages?

2. Let's Check Your Homework

1. Did you complete the previous homework?
2. Who would like to share their answer with the class?

Outline

- Warm up Activity (Opening Questions)
- Words → sentences → paragraphs
- Subject and verb
- Sentence mechanics
- Paragraph format
- Writing process
- Homework & Exit ticket

Warm-up Activity

Instruction: Think → Pair → Share

1. Think: What can a writer do to improve a first draft?
2. Pair: Discuss your ideas with a partner.
3. Share: Share one idea with the class.

• Add • Remove • Rearrange • Clarify • Get feedback

What will we learn?

By the end of this lesson, you should be able to:

- Put sentences into paragraph form
- Identify subjects and verbs
- Use capital letters and end punctuation
- Use the verb be correctly
- Use words for names correctly
- Write, revise, and edit a paragraph

Structure: Introduce Yourself

Organize your introduction into 5 parts:

1. Greeting and name

Hello, everyone. My name is Ahmad Ahmadi.

2. Background

I am from Kabul, Afghanistan. I am a fifth-semester English student.

3. Languages / English experience

I speak Dari and Pashto. I have been learning English for several years.

4. Interests and hobbies

In my free time, I enjoy reading books and watching educational videos. I am particularly interested in English literature.

5. Goal for the writing class/future

I want to improve my paragraph and essay writing.
I hope to become a more confident academic writer.

Structure: Introduce Yourself

Organize your introduction into 5 parts:

Name → Background → English/Languages → Interests → Writing Goal

Hello, everyone. My name is Ahmad Ahmadi. I am from Kabul, Afghanistan, and I am a fifth-semester English student. I speak Dari, Pashto, and English. I have been learning English for several years, and I am especially interested in improving my writing skills. In my free time, I enjoy reading and watching educational videos. My goal in this writing class is to improve my academic writing and become a more confident writer.

Chapter 1: Writing Models

Now open your textbook to the writing models in Chapter 1(pp. 2 and 3)

- Three students introduce themselves
- Each model gives personal information
- Look for: name, family, country, language, study/
- Compare what information is included

Writing Model 1

I would like to introduce myself. My name is Shaukat Matin. My nickname is Salim. I am from Pakistan. I speak Bengali. I am married. I live with my wife and our son. I want to study computers.

Writing Model 2

I would like to introduce myself. My name is Marta Moreno. My full name is Marta Lucía Moreno Martinez. I am from Colombia. I am 19 years old. I live on campus. I like to go Fishing I want to travel.

Writing Model 3

I would like to introduce myself. My name is Zhang Minxiong, but please call me Calvin. Zhang is my family name. Minxiong means smart and heroic. I am 21. I am taking classes in English and math. I live with my cousin and his family. I work part-time in his restaurant. I want to have my own business.

Vocabulary: Words for Names

Type of Name	Meaning	Example
First Name	Your personal name; usually the name people call you.	Ahmad
Middle Name	A name placed between your first name and family name.	Ahmad Zaki Rahimi
Last Name / Family Name	The name that identifies your family.	Ahmad Zaki Rahimi
Nickname	An informal name used by friends, family, or classmates.	Ahmad → Ahmadi

From words to sentences to paragraphs

- WORD → student
- PHRASE → a university student
- SENTENCE → I am a university student.
- PARAGRAPH → several related sentences about one topic

Kabul university plays an important role in educating future leaders of Afghanistan. Thousands of students from different provinces study there every year. The university offers programs in more than twenty-two faculties, such as political science, engineering, and literature. Many graduates of Kabul university now serve in government, education, and business sectors. In conclusion, Kabul university is essential in preparing the next generation of leaders for Afghanistan.

How Does a Paragraph Develop?

1. A word / short answer: Kabul

2. A complete sentence: I am from Kabul.

3. Add more information

I am from Kabul, Afghanistan.

4. Connect related sentences → These sentences form a paragraph because they are connected and all introduce the same person.

I am from Kabul.

I am an English student.

I speak Dari and English.

I enjoy reading.

A paragraph is a group of related sentences about one main topic.

What is a sentence?

- A sentence expresses a complete thought
- A statement gives information
 - I am in the class/ My name is Ahmad.
- A question asks for information
 - What is your name?
- A sentence normally has a subject (an object) and a verb
 - He helped her.
- Start with a capital letter

Sentence Mechanics: capitals & punctuation

Definition: Sentence mechanics are the rules of capitalization, punctuation, spelling, and sentence structure that help us write correct and clear sentences.

- Begin every sentence with a capital letter.
- Use a period after a statement.
- Use a question mark after a question.
- Capitalize I, names of people, places and countries, and Languages

Example: Asad is from Parwan, Afghanistan.

Example: I speak Dari and English.

The Subject

فاعل

The Subject of a sentence is the person, thing, or idea that performs the action or is described in the sentence. It typically answers the question Who? or What? About/before the verb.

Example:

He helped her.

I/she/you/Ahmad/ I and you(we)/ they/ my friend...

Types of Subjects

1. Simple Subject: The main noun or pronoun that performs the action.

Example: He studies late at night.

2. Complete Subject: The simple subject along with its modifiers.

Example: The hardworking Afghan student studies late at night.

3. Compound Subject: Two or more subjects joined by a conjunction.

Example: Ahmad and Ali prepare for their exams.

4. Implied Subject: The subject is understood but not explicitly stated (common in commands).

Example: (You) Complete your assignments on time! Close the door!

The Object

مفعول

- The object of a sentence is the noun, pronoun, or phrase that receives the action of the verb.
- It answers the question Whom? or What? after the verb.
- Objects take no action

Example

He helped her.

--her/--you/--my friend/--us/--him...

Types of Objects

1. Direct Object – The noun or pronoun that receives the action of the verb directly.

Example: She bought a book. (What did she buy? A book.)

2. Indirect Object – The noun or pronoun that receives the direct object or benefits from the action.

Example: She gave her friend a book. (To whom did she give the book? Her friend.)

3. Object of a Preposition – The noun or pronoun that follows a preposition.

Example: She sat on the chair. ('Chair' is the object of the preposition 'on'.)

What is a verb?

- A verb is a word that expresses an action or state in a sentence.
- Action verbs: express doing something. → She runs every morning.
- State verbs: express a condition, state, or feeling. → I know the answer.

Asad drinks water.

Ahmad is a teacher.

We know the solution to this problem

What is a complements? It completes the meaning of the sentence.

Today is Wednesday. Ahmad is a student. Your car is amazing.

What is a paragraph?

- A paragraph is a group of related sentences
- All sentences discuss one main topic
- Sentences are connected logically
- A paragraph is more than a list of unrelated sentences

Kabul university plays an important role in educating future leaders of Afghanistan. Thousands of students from different provinces study there every year. The university offers programs in more than twenty-two faculties, such as political science, engineering, and literature. Many graduates of Kabul university now serve in government, education, and business sectors. In conclusion, Kabul university is essential in preparing the next generation of leaders for Afghanistan.

What is a paragraph?

A paragraph is not simply a certain number of sentences. It is a group of related sentences that develops one topic.

Example

I am from Herat. I am a university student. I speak Dari and English. I enjoy reading.

These sentences belong together because they all introduce the same person.

But:

I am from Herat. I am a university student. I like football. Kabul has many busy streets.

The last sentence (in red color) does not belong because it changes the topic.

PRACTICE 2Using Paragraph Format

These sentences are not in the form of a paragraph. Take a sheet of paper and copy the sentences in paragraph form.

○	My classmate Jason Kim is an interesting person.
	He is from Seoul, South Korea. He speaks Korean.
	He is not married.
	He lives on campus. He has a roommate.
	He likes to play soccer and video games.

PRACTICE 2: Using Paragraph Format (page 5)

My classmate Jason Kim is an interesting person.
He is from Seoul, South Korea. He speaks Korean.
He is not married. He lives on campus. He has a roommate. He likes to play soccer and video games.

The Writing Process

1. Prewrite / prepare ideas

2. Draft

3. Revise

REVISION = improve ideas and organization

4. Edit

EDITING = correct language and mechanics

5. Write a new draft / final version

The Writing Process

The writing process is a series of steps.

From ideas → prewriting → drafting → revising → editing → publishing

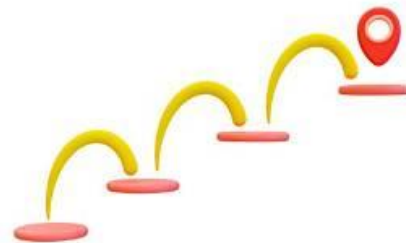

Goal: produce clear, organized, effective academic writing

For example, from selecting a topic to finishing an essay/research.

The Writing Process at a Glance

1. Choose a topic
2. Brainstorming
3. Outline
4. Writing the first draft
5. Revising
6. Editing/proofreading
7. Writing the final draft/submitting

CHOOSING A GOOD TOPIC

- The first step in writing a successful paper is choosing a good topic.
- This is a very important step because your entire paper depends on your topic.

Your topic should pass the 3-question test:

- 1 Does it interest me?
Try to pick something that really interests you.
- 2 Do I have something to say about it?
Something you know a little about or would like to learn more about.
- 3 Is it specific?
Make sure your topic is specific and focused.

Step 1

Too General	Well-Focused	Too Specific
Too broad, too many ideas to cover in a short essay.	Clear and manageable, specific enough, but gives you enough ideas to develop.	Too narrow, limited to one event, person, or detail.
Education	Benefits of learning English for Afghan students	The teaching method used by one teacher in Kabul university in 2026
Environment	Challenges of online education for Afghan university students	A specific tree planted by a student in Kabul on Earth Day
Why? → You would need a book to explain it properly.	Why? → You have enough ideas for a focused paragraph or essay.	Why? → You may not have enough ideas to write about.

Practice Time

Answer Key to Practice 7.

Broad Topic	Focused Topic
1. A trip to the US	My First Visit to New York City
2. Education in another country	The Cost of Studying in Canada
3. Customs in another country	Wedding Customs in Tajikistan
4. My first job	My First Day as an English Teacher
5. My academic goals	My Goal of Earning a PhD in Applied Linguistics

Step 2: Brainstorm

Brainstorming is a way to generate ideas about a topic before writing.

How to Brainstorm

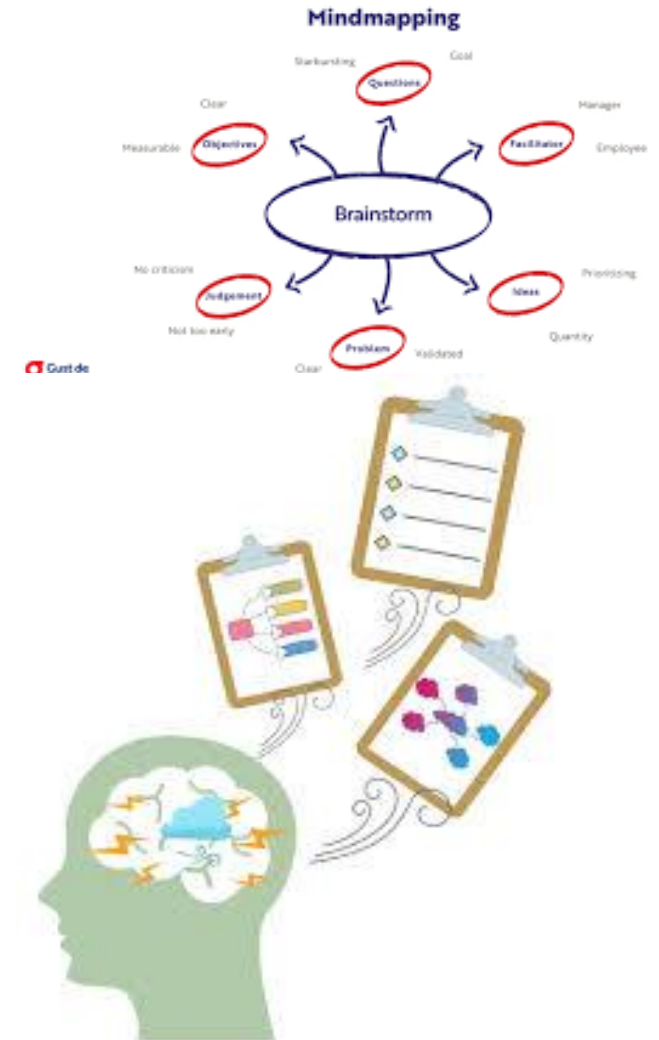

1. Write your topic.
2. Think of as many ideas as possible.
3. Write down every idea.
4. Do not worry about grammar or word order.
5. Choose the best ideas for your writing.

Example: Water Pollution

• dirty rivers • plastic waste • health problems • lack of clean water • dead fish • diseases

Brainstorming Techniques

1. Listing
2. Freewriting
3. Mind Mapping

Technique1: Listing

This technique lists ideas quickly.

Topic: Causes of Stress Among Students

- Exams
- Family pressure
- Time management
- Lack of sleep
- Financial problems

Technique2: Freewriting

- You can write continuously to discover ideas
- Write for 5-10 minutes without stopping

Example: I like online learning because I don't have to travel. It saves time and money...

Technique3: Mind Mapping

This technique connects related ideas around a central idea

Main Topic: Healthy Lifestyle

Branches:

- Exercise
- Food
- Sleep

Each branch has sub-ideas

MIND MAP

EXAMPLE: DEVELOPING A HEALTHY HABITS

MIND MAP

Technique4: 5Ws + H

Topic: Online Shopping

1. Who? Busy people
2. What? Buying clothes
3. Where? Websites
4. When? Weekends
5. Why? Convenience
- I. How? Mobile apps

Step 3

OUTLINE

Definition:

An outline is a plan/map or framework that helps organize your ideas before writing the full essay.

Generally, it shows the structure of your essay, including introduction, body paragraphs, and conclusion.

Do not skip this step!

It might seem boring, but it really makes your writing stronger.

EXAMPLE OF AN OUTLINE

I. INTRODUCTION

- Hook / Attention getter
- Background information
- Thesis statement

II. BODY PARAGRAPH 1

- Topic sentence
- Supporting idea 1
- Supporting idea 2
- Example / Detail
- Concluding sentence

III. BODY PARAGRAPH 2

- Topic sentence
- Supporting idea 1
- Supporting idea 2
- Example / Detail
- Concluding sentence

IV. BODY PARAGRAPH 3

- Topic sentence
- Supporting idea 1
- Supporting idea 2
- Example / Detail
- Concluding sentence

V. CONCLUSION

- Restate the thesis (in different words)
- Summary of main ideas
- Final thought / Closing statement

A good outline = A well-organized essay = A strong impression!

General Outline

I. Introduction Topic: Learning a Second Language

- A. Hook:
- B. Brief background on the importance of language learning in today's world.
- C. Thesis Statement

II. Body1: Topic sentence

A. Supporting 1

A. Supporting 2

A. Example

III. Body2: Almost, the same as Body 1

IV. Body3: Almost, the same as Body 1 & 2

V. Conclusion

- A. Restate the importance of learning a new language.
- B. Summarize key points
- C. Final thought

I. Introduction

- A. Hook: In today's world, knowing a foreign language is more important than ever, especially for Afghan students.
- B. Background: Many students in Afghanistan hope to build a better future through education and work opportunities.
- C. Thesis Statement: Learning a foreign language is crucial in Afghanistan because it helps students find jobs, continue education abroad, and understand other cultures.

II. Body Paragraph 1: Learning a Foreign Language Helps Afghan Students Find Jobs.

- A. Many international NGOs and private companies in Afghanistan require employees who speak English or other foreign languages.
- B. People with good language skills are more likely to be hired and promoted.
- C. Language skills help Afghans work as interpreters, translators, or office staff in foreign organizations.

III. Body Paragraph 2:

You will now make the body2 and body3!

IV. Conclusion

- A. Restatement of thesis: Education is key to Afghanistan's improvement.
- B. Summary of the main points
- C. Final thought: Acquiring a foreign language is an essential skill in Afghanistan.

Specific Outline

Body 2 and Body 3

IV. Learning a Foreign Language Builds Understanding of Other Cultures

- A. By learning a new language, students also learn about the traditions, values, and way of life of other people.
- B. This cultural knowledge helps promotes tolerance among different groups.
- C. In a diverse world, cultural understanding is important for peace, cooperation, and respect.

V. Learning a Foreign Language Allows Communication with Foreigners

- A. Knowing a foreign language helps Afghans communicate with tourists, international workers, and foreign friends.
- B. It is useful for doing business, working online, or participating in international conferences.
- C. It allows Afghan youth to share their stories and culture with the world.

Step 5: Revise the First Draft

Definition: Revising means improving your first draft. You may add, remove, rearrange, or change ideas to make your writing clearer, stronger, and more effective.

- Adding: Is there any other information that the reader needs to know?
If someone said a part was too short or confusing, add more explanation or examples
- Removing: Are there any unnecessary details? Cut out repeated or off-topic sentences.
- Moving: Is the information presented in the most logical order?
- Substituting: Could I change anything to make my expressions stronger? Highlight areas you need to improve based on the feedback.

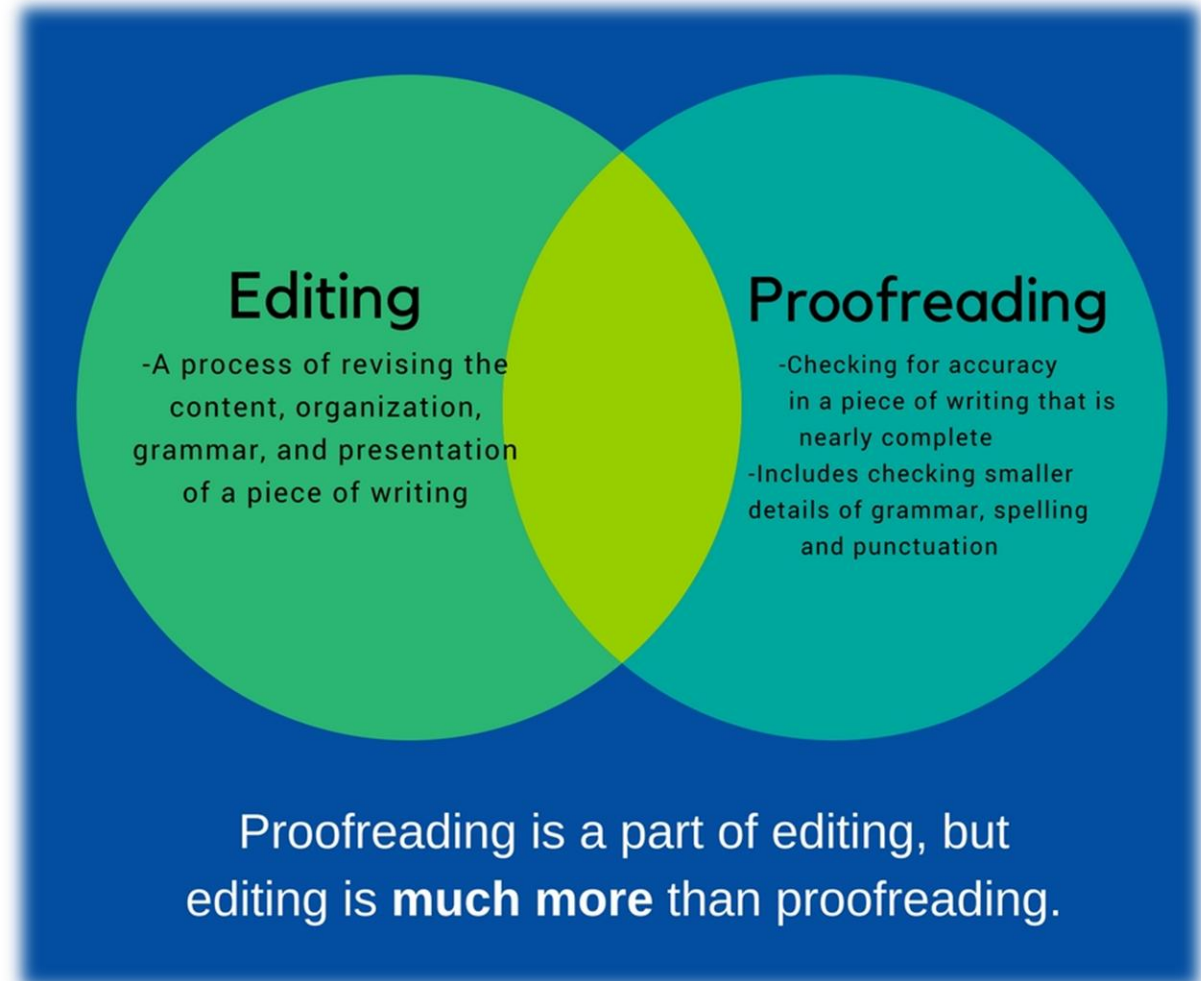

Steps 6 and 7: Edit and Proofread

Editing

- Correct grammar and sentence structure
- Improve word choice and clarity
- Make sentences smoother and more effective

Proofreading

- Do a final check for small errors.
- Check spelling and typing
- Check punctuation and capitalization
- Check formatting

Revising vs. Editing vs. Proofreading

- REVISING → ideas, organization, thesis, development, clarity
- EDITING → grammar, vocabulary, sentence structure, style
- PROOFREADING → spelling, punctuation, formatting, typing

BIG → SENTENCE → SURFACE

Classroom Workshop: Use the Process

Topic: How students can improve academic writing

1. Brainstorm for 2 minutes
2. Choose 3 strong ideas
3. Write a working thesis
4. Make a 3-point outline
5. Draft one body paragraph

Exit Ticket

1. Write one correct sentence about yourself.
2. Underline the subject and circle the verb.
3. Name two things you will check when revising your paragraph.

Let's practice more
